SIR: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They saved my wife more good than I can tell you. She had

TUESDAY MORNING NOV 17 1863

No flag but the Old Flag—the Red White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true!
Arise and defend it! ye sons of the brave
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save

The National Currency

In the vast and engrossing interest felt by the people in the progress of the war and the operations of the army, other questions of grave importance have received but comparatively little attention Yet while we have been watching and waiting for victories, and rejoicing over them when obtained, there has been quietly put in force by the intelligent and discreet management of the accomplished Secretary of the Treasury, a system of finance, which we candidly believe is sure to become of more valuable advantage to the whole country than any one can now estimate The results and the benefits of the pure currency banking system devised by Mr Chase, when it is fully established, and made operative throughout the land, will be hailed as the consequences of the most salutary and sagacious act of the present Administration It must stop the enormous shaving, cheating and robbery, to which for the last thirty years, the people have been compelled to submit In some of the Western States, millions of dollars have been lost by the community on account of a depreciated or worthless currency, against which, no legislation seemed effectual, and the universal demand was made for some system, which should give the nation a sound and an uniform currency The plan, suggested by the Secretary and adopted by Congress at its last session, to secure such a currency, is probably so well understood by our readers that we need not give it in detail Hundreds of banks, under its provisions, have already been organized, the advantages of which are beginning to be appreciated We trust some of our capitalists in Oregon, who wish to make safe and profitable investments, will consider the matter, and while they have the opportunity to use their money advantageously for themselves, will also furnish to our community the facilities of exchange and currency, which the system was designed to provide A recent article in the N Y Independent mentions several of the reasons why the plan of Mr. Chase should be generally adopted, and every locality of much business consequence should have a National Bank, based upon its provisions. They are

"First—It will give to the people a uniform currency—as it is designed, in furnishing banks, to have the bills of each denomination exactly alike

"Second—The engraving and entire workmanship of the bills will be in the very highest style of art, and consequently the business of counterfeiting will be, practically, ended

"Third—Every bill issued by every bank—no matter where located—will command the entire confidence of the community from one end of the nation to the other, and pass current at all times, without a question

"Fourth—Each bank will have, as a basis for its circulation and as unquestionable protection to the public, precisely the same security, viz Government stocks.

"Fifth—The faith of the whole nation—not of a single State—will be pledged for the redemption of such circulation, and therefore it would be preferred and sought after in all business circles

"Sixth—Such a currency would be used as a medium of exchange from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and would save the country millions of dollars annually now paid to brokers and shavers.

"Seventh—No jealousy or opposition would or could exist between the banks, in time of panic, on account of their relative solvency or safety. A small institution in Kansas would hold up its head as high as the proudest corporation in the city of New York

"Eighth—One of the strongest arguments in favor of the National banking system, is the great strength it will give to the Government, by creating in all quarters, city and country, a demand for United States securities—furnishing a permanent market for at least two or three hundred millions

"Ninth—All these National banks, when established, may safely be used as Government depositories under the Internal Revenue Law, and also, where there is no Sub-Treasury, for the safe keeping of Custom House receipts, postage money, etc"

GENERAL BUTLER'S POSITION.—Some surprise has been expressed that an officer so high in rank, and possessing such peculiar abilities as General Butler, should have been shut up in Headquarters at Fortress Monroe with a command like that of the Department of North Carolina, where there is apparently at present but little for him to do But it may be well to remember that his station will give him the control of Richmond, the capture of which is evidently shortly expected, as a necessary result of the success of the movements now tradspiring in Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee. When the Southern railroads are destroyed, Richmond must be evacuated, and thus Butler will find a sphere for the exercise of the same tact and tactics, which he employed at New Orleans, with such eminent success Just such a commander will be needed to bring order out of the rebellious chaos and confusion, which prevails in the Confederate Capital, and we have no doubt that he will as before, prove himself admirably competent for the thorough accomplishment of the work We are also sure that almost every loyal man in the North hopes that he will without much delay have the opportunity to begin the performance of this most desirable and necessary operation

NEW YORK, Nov 9—The bombardment of Fort Sumter is still progressing The rebels remain in possession of what's left

CHICAGO, Nov 8—A Cincinnati dispatch says it is stated in military circles that a new movement is being made by Burnside's army under certain secret orders which will achieve an immense victory for the Federal arms, as Bragg's army will be surrounded

CHATTANOOGA, Nov 7—Six shells were thrown from Lookout Mountain to day, doing no damage A Corinth letter says the Memphis and Chattanooga railroad has been abandoned east of that point

WASHINGTON Nov 8—It appears that yesterday morning the 5th and 6th corps under Gen Sedgwick advanced to Rappahannock Station The 2d and 3d corps, forming the left wing, under Gen French, proceeded to Kelly's Ford The right wing found the enemy in considerable force this side of the river Gen Sedgwick stormed the rebel batteries with great gallantry and impetuosity, causing much slaughter and capturing a large number of prisoners When Gen French reached Kelly's Ford the enemy tried to cross an entire division to support their picket line on this side French brought his artillery to bear on them with great effect, killing a large number and throwing them into confusion taking many prisoners He then followed up his advantage earnestly and sent the first division across the river which made dispositions for that day On Sunday he crossed the remainder of his command, and captured seven rebel guns together with the entire rebel camp equipage A large number of prisoners were taken by both Sedgwick and French said to be 1200 Our loss is reported 400 killed and wounded but no prisoners

From the Sacramento Union we have the following additional news

CAIRO Nov 7—The Memphis Bulletin of the 4th reports that the rebel forces are still conscripting in Shelby, Tipton and Lawton counties, that part of the country is represented to be in a dreadful condition The crops are all destroyed Many of the people are entirely dependent for support on what they get through the Union lines

A squad of guerrillas entered Blandsville Ky 12 miles from Cairo, yesterday, but left soon after without doing much damage

NEW YORK, Nov 7—The Herald's correspondent gives the following details of the late battle at Wauchatty, near Chattanooga The attack was a thorough surprise movement, and was met by only a small portion of Geary's command This had to fight for nearly two hours against heavy odds, without fortifications of any kind Besides, our forces knew but little of the geography of the country Although General Hooker sent reinforcements with orders to press forward and make a junction with Geary at the earliest possible moment they did not arrive in time to participate in the fight Had it been otherwise it is not improbable that we would have captured a goodly portion of one rebel brigade. Three times the enemy made charges on Geary's center, and each time they were driven back with heavy loss Every attempt to outflank our little force was checked at once and finally they commenced to retire All their wounded that could walk were taken off, but the rest were left behind We took 70 wounded from the field No small number of their dead were scattered in the woods on the right and left The prisoners taken by us are from seven different South Carolina regiments

CHATTANOOGA, Nov 6—The enemy keep up a fire from a 20-pounder gun on the crest of Lookout Mountain, occasionally reaching our lines They opened the entertainment this afternoon by throwing a number of shells inside their own lines This strange conduct excites considerable comment Information leads to the belief that Bragg's army has been weakened recently for some purpose not yet revealed General Longstreet's headquarters are established on Lookout Mountain, which is held by a strong force It is estimated that the rebels have expended $14,000 worth of ammunition from Lookout Mountain and killed one Federal soldier and wounded another Since the opening of the river route we are in daily communication with Bridgeport and supplies come up regularly

The position of the National and rebel forces at Lookout Mountain is not yet clearly defined As near as can be judged from the meager reports received, our forces hold the passes in Raccoon Mountain and the west side of Lookout, thus securing our river communication from interruption by the rebels, while the enemy hold the east side of the mountain

KNOXVILLE, Nov 6—A rebel regiment crossed the Little Tennessee on Monday, Nov 2d, and were driven back by Col Adams's First Kentucky regiment, and fifty rebels were killed and drowned, and forty captured, including four officers There are now no rebels this side of the river

CHICAGO, Nov 7—A letter dated Chattanooga Oct 29th, says Affairs have decidedly improved, within a few days, and are momentarily brightening Gen Grant found the place closely invested, from the river above clear around to Lookout Mountain, on the river below Cannon were briefing from every hilltop along the whole line for a distance of between five and seven miles Detachments from Longstreet's corps were thrown down the river nearly to Bridgeport on all the roads and in all the mountain passes The river bank was lined with sharpshooters, who compelled our abandonment of the most direct wagon road to Bridgeport The railroad runs on the south side of the river several miles, and it was wholly in their hands. The bulk of the army here has been on half rations for weeks, and finally, the only way supplies could be transported was in wagons and on pack mules, and by the circuitous route over the mountains, a distance of at least sixty miles An immediate opening of direct communication with Bridgeport or the evacuation of Chattanooga was a too apparent necessity to need discussion Accordingly on Tuesday morning, October 27th at daylight, Hooker's corps commenced crossing the river at Bridgeport, and immediately pushed forward in this direction Small parties of rebel troops were fallen in with occasionally but no considerable force opposed his march By noon on Wednesday, October 28th he reached and crossed the passes of Race on Mountains without a battle, and with his left flank resting on the river six miles below here Longstreet still holds Lookout Mountain, and commands the river between this and Hooker's corps, but he will soon be flanked and compelled to fight or evacuate if our plans succeed for the next two days as they have in the last two A division crossed about ten miles below here on the same day that Hooker did, and co operated with him Both captured a few prisoners, though neither had more than a slight skirmish Hooker's position on Raccoon Mountain is said to be uncommonly strong and unassailable, and surprise is manifested that Longstreet allowed him to get possession without a contest of strength or generalship This occupation reopens the direct wagon road to Bridgeport, which follows the river for a considerable portion of the way and consequently avoids most of the hills and mountains A steamboat has been ordered to Bridgeport large enough to assist greatly in transporting supplies and is now on the way to Raccoon Mountain As soon as Longstreet can be dislodged from Lookout we will be well situated to hold the railroad We are comparatively well off now, as supplies can follow the road Hooker marched on cross the river at the ferry near Raccoon Mountain, and reach this place without difficulty, thus shortening the distance to Bridgeport more than one-half, and quadrupling the amount of supplies the wagon trains can bring

CINCINNATI, Nov 7th—The Grand Jury of the United States Court has found bills of indictment against all the parties to the alleged conspiracy An effort will be made to have the trial take place during the present term if General Burnside does not order them to be taken before a Court martial, and thus relieve the civil Court of responsibility

NEW YORK, Nov 7—Panama papers of October 27th contain the following news from San Salvador The Capital was bombarded by Carrera's forces almost incessantly since October 9th Many houses were destroyed and a number of women and children killed All who could get away had left, but many remained The United States Minister on October 19th passed through the lines into San Salvador General Barrios at an interview on the 27th of September, has offered to abandon the Presidency and leave the country, stipulating that he should be allowed the escort to be guard of honor and be followed by his force It is said Carrera should carry all the ammunition with him to the frontier of Guatemala which Carrera positively refused to do After the departure of Ambassador Barrios urged Partridge United States Minister to go to Carrera's camp and make a different arrangement He went in the morning of October 11th and had an interview with Carrera who stated that he did not insist on hostilities in San Salvador, nor did he require Barrios to sign a convention agreeing that in case of war he would be returned to his country until after Barrios had left the Government surrendered his command and left the country when he would treat with Senator Peralta whom he agreed should be left in charge of the Government by Barrios This was made known to Barrios who replied that he wanted a Commissioner should be appointed to discuss that point Carrera said he would not discuss it but Partridge advised that Commissioners should be appointed to negotiate terms upon which they really left and it was hoped when the steamer left, that the matter would be ended in three days

MORE HEAVY BLOWS.—The Eugene City Review gives us some more proceedings of Democratic meetings up the valley from which it appears that the Government is so unfortunate as not to meet the approbation of sundry individuals in that direction In fact they actually denounce its acts as unconstitutional and seem to suppose that their opinions deserve grave consideration and will exercise great influence in shaping the course of national events Perhaps so but if not what will they do about it? We do not believe they intend to make any serious fuss but only propose to themselves the luxurious and complacent satisfaction of going to a Democratic Convention and hearing some one like the eloquent Editor or Ex Governor White aker expound the doctrines of their political faith, while they in a sort of blind and stupid infatuation foolishly imagine that there is actually a Democratic party now a days and that they really belong to it Poor, deluded fellows Well, if they can derive any pleasure from this sort of make believe politics, we hope their enjoyment will not be disturbed

CHARGES PREFERRED.—Sub Indian Agent A E Rogers in Oregon has preferred charges against Col Drew, in command at Camp Baker and Fort Klamath An officer was sent to Jacksonville to inquire into the truth of the charges and to make a critical examination into the military transactions in that section and also to report upon the propriety of building the new fort in the locality selected by Colonel Drew The objection to the new fort at Klamath Lake appears to be that it is too remote from the immigrant road and civilization while the advantage claimed for the location is, that the Indians quite corralled there will never be able to find their way out to the white settlements!—Sac Union

We learn from reliable sources that upon investigation, the charges against Col Drew proved to be entirely without foundation Local prejudices seem to have been the origin of the complaints rather than anything else, and we presume these were not of sufficient consequence to justify the postponement of the work commenced by Col Drew It is to be regretted that there should be any variance or difficulty between the officers of the Indian and Military Departments, but as the world is full of men, who wish to have their own way, and will make a rumpus if they cannot, of course it is not surprising that these little quarrels grow up and are magnified

JUDGE BETTS' DECISION.—The decision of Judge Betts' of New York, on the writ of habeas corpus, demanded in behalf of a deserter named Baldinger, settles a vexed question It establishes the legality of the President's proclamation. The Judge thus states his opinion

"The government has the right to defend its own existence and when it is necessary it may say to all "You shall not prevent or embarrass the action of the government in the exercise of that high power by any form of legal action It may say Each man must come forward to help defend the national life and he cannot interpose the objection that he is not lawfully called upon, or that he is called on to do more than his neighbor It is enough that he is called on by the government and within its reach

CLEARING OUT THE UPPER WILLAMETTE.—The Eugene City Review says that last week, the stockholders of the new steamer Enterprise, in that place, sent a party to remove all obstructions from the river, for fifteen miles below, such as floating trees, snags sawyers and brush piles, so that the boat should have no difficulty in reaching Eugene The work was faithfully accomplished and the river is said now to be in a fine navigable condition

THE NEW PACIFIC STATE.—The Convention in Washoe for the purpose of forming a Constitution, has decided by a vote almost unanimous, that the State shall be named Nevada

ECONOMY IN A FAMILY.—There is nothing which goes so far towards placing young people beyond the reach of poverty as economy in the management of household affairs It matters not whether a man furnishes little or much for his family if there is a continual leakage in his kitchen or parlor, it runs away he knows not how and that demon waste cries more! like the horse leech's daughter, until he that provided has no more to give It is the husband's duty to bring into the house, and it is the duty of the wife to see that none goes wrongfully out of it A man gets a wife to look after his affairs and to assist him in his journey through life, to educate and prepare their children for a proper station in life and not to dissipate his property The husband's interest should be the wife's care and her greatest ambition to carry her no further than his welfare or happiness, together with that of her children This should be her sole aim and the theater of her exploits in the bosom of her family, where she may do as much towards making a fortune as he can do in a counting room or workshop.

GOLD AND SILVER QUARTZ MINES NEAR THE BORDERS.—During the past two months, considerable importance has attached to the discovery of what is generally termed the Owyhee mines Reports, many of them exaggerated if not entirely without foundation in fact, have been freely circulated and as freely believed, until the prices of imaginary stocks forced high and well-defined Hitherto, we have sought to avoid giving currency to the rumors—so far as compatible with the duties of legitimate journalism—preferring to await the advent of authentic information upon a subject of such interest to the venturesome miners who risk so much in prospecting our mountain fastnesses We yesterday conversed with a gentleman of the utmost reliability—whose judgment is seldom warped by the sanguine hopes that afflict a majority of our fortune hunters—who has recently arrived from a partial exploration of that country On account of the late day of his setting out, he had been out of the city a week after his arrival in the neighborhood before the falling snow prevented his further investigation for this year, and he returned satisfied with his trip, to prepare for the opening of spring. He informs us that the particular quartz region known as the Owyhee," is twenty-five miles from the river of that name, being located on the hills adjacent to Jordan Creek, thirty miles from Snake river, sixty-five from Boise City, ninety-five from Bannock three hundred and twenty miles from Umatilla, and about 150 miles from Humboldt, in a northwesterly direction, and in the same range with Washoe, Humboldt, and South Boise The quartz crops out very frequently, in narrow and broken veins, some of which have yielded assays of $3,000 silver to the ton, besides a fair proportion of gold. It is not known that the croppings indicate the true location or course of any lead, as the amount of labor expended toward development has been confined to the digging of a few holes not exceeding eight feet in depth. Some of the claims, the Oro Fino, for instance, are rich in gold A great many ledges are located, named and recorded There were about 200 miners at Boonville when our informant left There are no placer diggings in the hills, the bed rock in many places being on the surface of the hill For about eight miles along Jordan Creek, however, the gold is pretty evenly distributed, and miners are making out from one to four ounces per day to the hand, with sluices. We have been promised some reliable details relative to the quartz formations, which we shall give our readers as soon as received.

SET FOR TRIAL TO-DAY.—The following cases are set for trial in the Circuit Court this morning

State of Oregon vs. Jacob Cline et al—forcible entry

CIRCUIT COURT.—The Court yesterday was occupied in hearing and determining motions. The Grand Jury came into Court and stated that they had concluded their labors, whereupon the Court discharged them from further attendance during this term.

VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS' BOUNTY.—We learn that under a late order of the War Department, volunteers who have enlisted for three years may be discharged at the end of the second year's service, and may receive their bounty of $100, if they enlist for a second term of three years, when they will receive the bounty of $400 now given to volunteers, making five hundred dollars bounty for the three years

ARRIVED.—A G Richardson, Esq, of the California Stage Co, arrived here on Saturday, looking as gay and festive as ever. He came overland from Sacramento, and informs us that the road south of the Umpqua valley is in an excellent condition, though he did not say the same about that part of it which is between here and Roseburg

RETURNED TO THEIR POSTS.—Capt Thompson, 1st Lieut. Clawson, and 2d Lieut Woodson, of the W T Vol. Infantry, members of the late Court Martial at Vancouver, returned to the respective posts at Walla Walla by the Wilson G Hunt yesterday

REMOVAL.—The splendid Gents' Clothing establishment and Agency Office for Grover & Baker family sewing machine of J. W. Costiveness Cured.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., October 12, 1858.

MESSRS. A. L. SCOVILL & Co—Gents: I am hardly able to express my gratitude for the benefit which my daughter has derived from the use of DR MOTT'S LIVER PILLS. She had been troubled with what the physicians called the LIVER COMPLAINT, but our doctor failed to give her any permanent relief, although she tried his prescriptions effectually. She had become melancholy, unhappy, and her constitution was much broken down by the use of Mercury. She tried DR. MOTT'S LIVER PILLS, and soon began to get better. I am happy to say that she has entirely recovered her health.

Respectfully yours, JAMES COBB.

A Distressing Headache Cured.

CINCINNATI, August 18, 1852.

MESSRS. A. L. SCOVILL & Co—I have for many years been troubled with severe attacks of headache, which often reduced me to my bed. My sufferings have been very great, and no one can have any idea of their severity except those who have suffered with the same disease. I took your DR. KEE'S PAIN PANACEA, bathed my head with it, and rubbed it in well. I also took at the same time, one half of a teaspoonful of sulphetus dissolved in one-fourth of a tumbler of water. Soon after, I took a second dose of PANACEA, and it was just the thing for all the world, for it knocked the pain crazy, and I have not had the headache since, for whenever I feel it coming on I take the Panacea, which always checks it at once. The Last Game of Cards

In the year eighteen hundred and—never you mind what—the present writer was at college, and in his very first term his moral nature received the following shock

The chum (let me call him Briston) that I had made for myself, after the manner of collegians—my own familiar friend—I discovered to be not only no better than he should be, but a very great deal worse A common acquaintance of ours sickened and grew dangerously ill. Such things make an impression on youth, to whom the footfall of death is terrible, even at another's door and I feared as well as grieved I went to see the sick man, of course, I even read aloud to him sometimes, and spent by his bedside a few hours that might have been more agreeably passed on the banks or bosom of Isis, but I feel now that I had much to reproach myself with in that matter, although I flattered myself at the time that I was doing my duty—and more On a certain Sunday, after a long afternoon's walk, I called on the invalid, and upon entering his bedroom was beyond measure astonished to find him playing cribbage with Briston The sick man laughed at my astonished looks, but Briston went on playing, as though that occupation required the whole of his attention I said nothing at the time, but I made a mental resolution to avoid the society of my ill chosen friend for the future. I was not "smatchued," as it is called, but a person that could play at cards on Sunday with a dying man was not, in my judgment, an eligible acquaintance I dropped Briston from that moment, nor do I think I interchanged half a dozen words with him for twenty years—We met at the funeral of the poor fellow in question, and I am bound to say that Briston seemed a good deal cut up, but that was the last I saw of him—for afterwards if we passed one another in the street, we did not even bow—for half a lifetime

A few years ago, however, a certain well known religious society requested my assistance in holding a missionary meeting in my parish, it was to be attended by several clergymen who had distinguished themselves in their profession, in very trying circumstances; who had gone through many perils among the heathen, and dared the pestilence and the sword with little enough of worldly recompense A newly appointed colonial bishop, their leader, was also to be present, of whom most persons had heard something, but nothing to his prejudice as I believe, a man both good and great who, having had the choice of a pleasant life or a useful one, chose the latter—a saint of these days, indeed When I remembered his toils, his hardships his experiences by land and sea, I felt ashamed, as I welcomed him to my little parsonage, of its easily earned comforts and appliances I could not help drawing a humiliating comparison between this veteran (who was about my own age, however) and a feather bed soldier like myself His modest diffidence overwhelmed me He spoke not a word of his own sufferings, but only of the church's need The clubs and spears, and other tokens of savage life which the society had caused to be sent down, with the gentleman to explain their nature, rather shocked his sensitiveness, he submitted to the exhibition without remonstrance, but evidently without approval It was his characteristic to blame no man, if possible, and certainly not one moved by good intentions Only one, when something severe was said against certain missionaries of another denomination, whose field of action was also his own, the bishop interrupted the speaker somewhat authoritatively

"There is no abuse of time," he said, "so great as that passed in abusing other people"

Late that night the bishop and I were sitting up together, talking over the events of the day "It is strange," said I, "but I seem to recognize your voice quite well, although not your features"

"That is very likely," returned he, smiling, "my skin has been a good deal tanned since we were at college together"

"Briston!" cried I, a sudden gleam of memory striking across my mind, and not without pain

"The same," said he "Had you then so entirely forgotten me as not to know me, even though you knew my name?"

"I had," returned I "The fact is, I"

"You tried to forget me, eh?" interrupted the bishop, smiling sadly "Well, perhaps I deserve it When I was young I thought I would go on my own way, being answerable to One only for my actions It is no wonder that I was mistaken even by good men"

"But to play at cribbage with a dying man!" urged I, aghast with the very remembrance.

"Yes," observed the bishop, reflectively, "I do not think, if the circumstances should recur, I should do so now, indeed, I have forgotten how to play at cribbage I always hated cards most unreasonably, and from that very circumstance I thought it my duty to play at them now and then Poor Thornton was passionately fond of them, and used to forget his pains when engaged in any game the doctor himself said they were as an opiate for him Now, on a week day, the poor fellow could get dozens of men to play with him but on a Sunday there was nobody wicked enough to do so except me I had been reading to him out of some devotional work up to within a few minutes of your coming in but upon his pains recurring he begged for a game at cribbage I saw no more harm in so gratifying him than if he had asked me to make a tan out of the stupid pasteboard things to cool his head with Perhaps I should have explained matters to you at the time, but I was headstrong 'If this man chooses to put an evil construction on an innocent action, what is that to me?' said I"

"I beg your pardon," cried I, 'from my inmost breast You were exercising Christianity, and I—well, I have thought evil of you for two-and twenty years in consequence."

"So would most people returned the bishop frankly "I am not at all certain that the Society would not withdraw my colonial allowance if they knew of it even now They would be afraid of my staking it at cribbage with the aborigines

The bishop and I parted with a most cordial shake of the hand I believe him to be one of the very best men alive

AYER'S Cathartic Pills

THEIR VIRTUES ARE MANIFOLD, AND THEIR ADAPTATION TO THE CURE OF DISEASE IS UNIVERSAL. CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Friends, Philanthropists, read their duty and Judge of their Efficacy

Headache, Sick Headache,

DR. J. C. AYER, SIR: I have been severely afflicted with the worst headache any body can have. I was a victim to Pills. It seems to orist from a foul stomach, which your Pills relieve at once. If they will cure others as they do me, they are worth knowing. Yours with

EDWARD BULL, Gov't Messenger.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaint,

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D. C.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my practice ever since I made Cincinnati my home, and they are the best cathartic I have ever used. They are the finest in quick and decisive remedy for derangement of the digestive organs that I am acquainted with. I have seldom found a case of biliousness that they would not readily yield to them.

ALONZO BELL, M. D.

Dysentery, Relax, and Diarrhœa,

POST OFFICE, HARTFORD, CONN., Feb. 1, 1863.

DR. AYER: Your Pills have done more for my wife in a good sick and painful case of Dysentery and Relaxation than all the doctors and other medicines she has taken for a year. She got no relief from anything else. Your Pills, which we procured of Dr. Wells, of this place, relieved her at once, and by persevering with them a few days, cured her entirely. Our two children, also, had been troubled with worms, and while other medicines we gave them did little or no good, your Pills brought them away by the dozen. Such a medicine as yours has been long needed in this community, and we feel sure it will be prized here.

ORLO J. GRIFFIN.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. H. HOOKER, Pastor of the Church of the Redeemer, Chicago.

DR. AYER: I have used your Cathartic Pills in my family and among my people, and find them an excellent remedy for all diseases arising from a disordered condition of the digestive organs or impurity of the blood. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood, they are the very best remedy I am acquainted with, and I confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, truly,

J. H. HOOKER.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Priest.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the best medicine they have ever used in my family. They have driven the scrofula from my hands and arms, and relieved my mother of a humor in the blood, which had settled in her limbs and baffled all other remedies. I regard your Pills as the best blood purifier we have ever known, and would not be without them. Yours, truly,

REV. E. P. WALKER, Pastor of St. Mary's Church, Lowell, Mass.

Rheumatism.

From the Rev. Dr. LORAINE, Pastor of the Universalist Church, Saratoga, N. Y.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful were I to withhold my testimony to the virtues of your Pills. They have brought me health when I had lost all hope, and relieved my limbs and body from pains which seemed to defy the power of medicine. I have frequently proved the efficacy of your Pills in the cure of my own children, and in my family, and have never known them to fail in the speedy and effectual cure of any complaint which they profess to remove. I regard them as the best physicians, the world's benefactor, and the friend of suffering humanity. Yours, with the highest respect,

REV. T. P. LORAINE.
